Basically, the right to the insurance benefits is revocable, except where the policyholder has declared in writing that the right is irrevocable. Revocability means that the right to the insurance benefits may be changed or cancelled by the policyholder at any time. The policyholder can designate one or more beneficiaries and define in detail their rights (rank and share).

Irrevocable beneficiary clause

Irrevocability means that the right to the insurance benefits may only be changed or cancelled with the consent of the person entitled to the irrevocable right to the insurance benefits. The policyholder hereby states that the right to the insurance benefits of the person(s) listed below is irrevocable. We recommend consulting a legal and/or tax expert before a person is designated as irrevocable beneficiary.

Name/company
First name
Address
ZIP code/City
Country
Nationality/Jurisdiction of incorporation
Date of birth/Incorporation date
